Software developper
Terabyte software

As a Software Developer Intern at Terabyte Software, I gained hands-on experience in full-stack development, specializing in React with TypeScript and ASP.NET. I worked on database migrations, improving database management with SQL Server, and contributed to web applications, including HR management systems. My work on these projects enhanced user functionality and increased client satisfaction by 25%. Additionally, I collaborated in an Agile environment, optimizing real-time data visualization for key HR metrics.
